INTRODUCTION

The medal roll for the Third China War to the Naval and Marine Forces is held at the Public Record Office under reference ADM 171-55. It will be noticed that a comparison between this roll and the roll for the Queen's South Africa Medal, where a recipient received both medals, can reveal inconsistencies in name or service number. To establish where the errors lie, and to correct them, would be impossible as one would need to check all the service records, and these are not all available at the Public Record Office. Therefore, we have transcribed the original handwritten records which were compiled at the time and were used for the naming and issuance of the medals. It should always be borne in mind that the rolls were kept not for researchers and collectors of the future, but as a record of the issuance of medals to recipients of proven entitlement and control of same.

Also included in this volume is a listing of the casualties compiled from various sources including:- Records held by the Ministry of Defence, The London Gazette, The Times, The Public Record Office etc., and we are confident that it is the most complete and detailed list published to date. Selected Despatches have been abstracted from The London Gazette to give the reader some indication of the role played by the Royal Navy and Royal Marines during the Boxer Rebellion.

Returned and duplicated medals have been listed in full and selected notes from the Roll have been included where considered appropriate. Medals presented by H.M. the King have been noted against individual names and also included is the list of recipients who received their medals from H.M. the King, as published in The Naval & Military Record of 13th March 1902.

The service numbers of the men have been included as an aid to further in-depth research as service papers are available at the Public Record Office as follows:

Royal Navy

Ratings	service numbers up to 165000	ADM 188 series
Commissioned officers		ADM 196 series

Royal Marines

Chatham Div.	service numbers up to Ch.14872	ADM 159 series
Portsmouth Div.	service numbers up to Po.11366	ADM 159 series
Plymouth Div.	service numbers up to Ply.11464	ADM 159 series
R.M.A.	service numbers up to RMA.9435	ADM 159 series
Officers		ADM 196 series

We trust that this companion volume to The Queen's South Africa Medal to the Royal Navy and the Royal Marines will be a useful addition to the book shelves of medal specialists, collectors and researchers.
