ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First, I would like to give all the glory, honours, and praise to the almighty God for all he has done and his endless help, guidance and fatherly love in all circumstances to complete the whole course work as well as this thesis successfully.

My deepest appreciation and sincere thanks goes to my research advisors Dr. Yechale Kebede and Mr. Abren Gelaw for their certainty to provide the necessary information, read the whole paper at all stages and given their sincere guidance, constructive comments, correction, and suggestion to bring the study to this form.

My special and heartfelt thank extended to my lovely wife W/ro Mulunesh Gullie for your inspiration, moral encouragement, family love, commitment, and financial support and being patient throughout my study time.

I also forward my appreciation to Demba Gofa Woreda administration office and Demba Gofa woreda human resources and public service office that gave me salary scholarship opportunity to pursue my post graduate program for last two year.

I also want to extend my special appreciation to individuals and friends those who have helped me in many way in accomplishing this work successfully. Without the support of people acknowledged, the accomplishment of this research would have been impossible.

Therefore, I would like to thank my friends particularly, Bayu Belihu, Gebre Gallo, Temesgen Lombe, Daniel Data, Negussie Guise and Mulugeta Wata for their sweet friendship, supporting and encouragement of each other in all circumstances for last two years
